Access System Risk Assessment Service

The Atlas Risk Assessment and safety inspection is offered on an annual or ad hoc basis to ensure that an installation performs within HSE guidelines and remains safe for use. Liability for safe operation rests with the owner.

About us

The Atlas Group is a company of mechanical and electrical security engineers who, for 27 years, have applied the highest possible standards of design, installation, maintenance and repairs to vehicle access and parking management solutions.

We have hundreds of satisfied customers in both the public and private sectors, from London Underground to 'Dun Roamin'. Our know-how guarantees that your security installation will be completed professionally, on time and within budget.

Independent of any manufacturer we work on all popular makes and are happy to offer impartial advice. We provide a continuous training program for our engineers to ensure that all our systems meet the relevant Health & Safety requirements.

Are You Safe?

Media attention to the safety of automatic gates, following the tragic deaths of three young children, is upsetting but timely. If properly installed, used and maintained automatic gates and parking barriers need not present a hazard. Unfortunately, injuries and even deaths do occur from time to time and often involve children.

Safety first

Accidents are rare, and in 25 years there have been no mishaps involving our equipment, but if your installation is more than a year old or has been installed by a company that is not a member of one of the industry's recognised professional bodies, then it may be unsafe.

When was your installation last tested?

Modern safety systems are self checking and more reliable than their earlier counterparts, but regular inspection and testing is indispensable to the provision of a system that is safe for use and will not pose a threat to visitors or members of the public who may pass by. Organisations are required by law to ensure their access control systems are safe.
